

Cultural Resource Management

Customized solutions that achieve project goals and protect valuable resources

As one of the nation's largest cultural resource management firms, TRC works with a broad range of private and public-sector clients to identify and address vital cultural resource concerns.

With over 30 years of industry experience, TRC's cultural resources experts specialize in environmental permitting for clients including pipeline and energy companies, private utilities, architecture/engineering firms, construction companies and real estate developers.

We also provide cultural resource services to state Departments of Transportation and other federal, state, tribal, and local agencies. We maintain long standing relationships with local, state and federal regulatory agencies, which allows us to guide projects through the review process swiftly and successfully.
